TOLD AT AETERNOON TEAL

Mrs. Lewis Beach is visiting Mrs. James F. Bar

Miss Romaine Stone, the latest beauty, is

The engagement is announced of the Marquis

Mrs. Henry Day, of 21 West Fifty-first street, will receive to-day and other Wednesdays during

The Badminton Club will not begin to play unti early in January. No place has yet been selected

The engagement of Mr. Rollins and Miss Hunt ington, daughter of Dr. Huntington, of Grace

Mrs. John Sherwood, who has just returned to

The marriage of Mr. Andrew Miller, one of the editors and proprietors of Life, and Miss Nina Le Roy will take place at St. Thomas's Church to-Vernet, will take place in Grace Church, Saybrook, Conn., Nov. 9. A small wedding breakfast

The marriage of Mr. A. W. P. Kinnan and Miss

Charlotte Morris, which was to have taken place

this afternoon at St. Thomas's Church, is indefinitely postponed owing to the sudden severe illness

The marriage of Mr. Jackson, of Brooklyn, and Miss May McElroy will take place at an early date.

Miss McElroy was the lucky catcher of the bridal bouquet tossed at the conclusion of the ceremony

DINNER FOR FOUR FOR ONE DOLLAR.

Contributed Daily to "The Evening World"

Split Peas Soup.

Baked Bluefish. Tomato Sauce.

Beef-Top Sirloin.
Cauliflower. Mashed Potatoes.

by the Aster House Steward.

at the Pedroso-Berghmann nuptials.

Ginger Snaps. Custard Pie. Coffee.

literary classes for young ladies in December.

d'Adda, of Milan, and Miss Mary Hooper, of Cin-home soon after their summer abroad, brunette, with very regular features.

bour at Washington.

cinnuti.

the winter.

for its meetings.

will follow.

Church, is announced.

Europe during the winter.

SPORTS OF FIELD AND RING.

THE REASON FIGHTERS DO NOT HAVE CUT AND BRUISED FACES.

T. Wiegand, the New York Athletic Club's Crack Hardler-What Has Become of All the Fighters ?-Billiardists Daly and Sexton-Hughes Says the Manhattan Club sium work.

URDLER C. T. Wiegand, whose picture is presented, is

C. T. WIEGAND. runner as well, with a record of 10 3-5s, and won one running broadjump competition he engaged in with a leap of 21 feet 9 inches, Mr. Wiegand has won running high jumps, also clearing 5 feet 8 inches, remarkable work for one of his

"Why don't you ever see fighters with bunged up faces ?" asked a reporter of Billy Edwards in the Hoffman House the other evening as he glanced at a gentleman whose face was scratched and swollen from some recent altercation. "They have to make their living fighting," was the answer. "I never saw a man who chopped wood all day chop any at night for amusement. chop any at night for amusement. You wouldn't go to a theatre and report the show just for fun, I'll bet. Then, too, a fighting man appreciates the risk to his hands he runs in hitting some fellow who may have a hard head, and he knows it is no credit to him to thrash anybody except a clever opponent in a ring. A fighter is the safest man to insult I know of. Many a time I have to pocket talk men wouldn't dare use to anybody else.'

There are nineteen interesting events on the programme of the Seventh Regiment's twelfth annual games, which will be held at the Armory on Dec. 3. The entries close on Nov. 24, with Secretary Janssen, Post-Office box 125.

Where the fighters have gone puzzled an where the fighters have gone puzzled an old-time champion yesterday. He was looking for a pair to go on to fight for a $300 purse in Washington, D. C., to-night. Harry Langdon was the only one he could get. Jack Fallon made the laughable excuse that he wanted time to train. He had been told who his opponent was to be too.

"Maurice Daly," said a well-known up-town sport, "has a valid excuse now for not playing Billy Sexton. Harvey Ubert, his partner, is seriously ill. Daly didn't want to play Sexton you can bet, or he wouldn't talk of playing a week for $500 a side. The Comanche would play him one or six nights for $2,500, and Daly could get the backing."

George Le Blanche, the Marine, is in Boston this week. He is to meet three or four men at the Wilmington (Del.) Theatre next week.

Mr. C. C. Hughes says the Manhattan Athletic Club was never so prosperous as now. More members were added to the rolls last week than in any such previous period in the club's existence. "Harry Sullivan," says Mr. Hughes, "is coming back in February, and will have charge of the grounds next season. As for the boxing competitions which are said to have made professionals of several of our members. I would say," continued the club have made professionals of several of our members, I would say," continued the club secretary, "that the National Association has never notified the clubs that it had added boxing to the list of exercises it oversees. In consequence we run our boxing shows under the old rules. When a notice of a National Association set of rules governing boxing is sent us the Manhattan Athletic Club will be the first to observe it."

The New York Athletic Club will play the Crescent Football Club's team on Saturday at the Polo Grounds.

Charlie Coster says he does not see where Charlie Coster says he does not see where he is to blame for punching a member of the Staten Island Athletic Club. He was caught by the throat and he saw a cane flourished near his head while his assailant had hold of him. "Of course I struck out," he added, "and I don't understand this ruling of me off the Island grounds. The man I hit accepted my explanation."

[From the Binghamton Republican.]
Don't be too hasty to judge. That cardinal nose may belong to a tectotaler who courts a girl with rouged cheeks.

WON AND LOST.

STYLES IN OYSTERS.

The Stew the Most in Demand, with the Fry Second in the Race.

HE oyster is an animal dear to the heart of man. Yet never was man known to grieve over the death of the most promising bivalve if the remains were duly cared for by the fat man in the Cap. 1 kitchen with the white

One thing which shows the intrinsic ex-ture is presented, is the New York Athletic Club's' crack in this branch of athletic sports. He is twenty-one years of age, stands 5 feet 6½ inches and scales 115 pounds in condition. He has been champion at his specialty for a number of years, and holds the record for a 220-yard hurdle race over 3-foot hurdles — 28 4-58. He is a good 100-yard runner as well, with a dwon one running broaderings of the will be a good 100-yard runner as well, with a dwon one running broaderings of the will be a good 100-yard runner as well, with a dwon one running broaderings of the will be a good 100-yard runner as well, with a dwon one running broaderings of the will be a good 100-yard runner as well, with a dwon one running broaderings of the will be predicted to the prediction of its friends. Sixty out of a hundred who eat the bivalve order an oyster stew. Oysters are particularly delicious when they are stewed in their own juices, but at very few places are enough of them overed to extend to the prediction of the predi own juices, but at very few places are enough of them opened to permit of this. Next to the stew, fried oysters are the most popular. They should not be smothered in a thick blanket of batter till they are indi-gestibly greasy. Run them through some eggs, roll them lightly in cracker-crumbs, and height. He is also quite an expert in gymna-fry them quickly.

The boiled and the roast cyster are next in order. When it is in a pickle it is quite naturally diverted from its purpose, and serves as a relish.

Most of the other modes are but variations

Most of the other modes are but variations on these. The Boston stew only adds a bit of toast for the oyster to lie on.

Some years ago an attempt was made to introduce steamed oysters. In the Monument City this phase of the oyster will make the native's mouth water at forty paces, and Harvey in Washington makes them a specialty. But the New York connoiseant draws the line native's mouth water at forty paces, and Harvey in Washington makes them a specialty. But the New York connoisseur draws the line at little neck clams. Steam them, yes! but not the clam's noble brother.

It used to be the thing to covet big oysters. That fashion has gone out. At Dorlon's Fulton Market place there are four or five eightinch shells that look as if they had been oyster tenement houses. One that was cramped in its lateral development grew straight abead for a foot. Your real gastro. straight ahead for a foot. Your real gastro-nome will turn calmly from blue points, gaze unmoved on the plumpest saddle rock and devote himself conscientiously to the Shrensbury. To many the taste for oysters is an acquired one, and the relish for the Shrensbury is, ewen to the confirmed oyster-eater, something that does not come always with the first dozen. But when they get there they stay there.

BILLIARD EXPERTS IN THE CLUBS. Stein downs all who play with him in the

Col. De Lancey Kane hold his own at the Knickerbocker.

Tom Morrissy and Norman Cross claim the tables at the Lambs. Heinrichs hums operatic arias while playing at the Leiderkranz.

Dr. Knapp, Carroll Livingston and Dick Young are the rollers in the Union.

Edward Kearney, James Boyle and Harry Perry are the leaders in the Blossom.

The playing of William H. Delancey always attracts attention in the St. Nicholas. Dan Starr, Dugro and Dr. Flint are the bosses with the cue in the Manhattan. Col. Church is the most active in the Century, where there are many good players. Marshall Stafford, William Perzel and Arthur Josephs are the leaders in the Home. A. V. De Goicouria, Otto Sarony and J. Seaver Page are dangerous in the New York

Walter Stanton's carom shots always at-ract attention at the New York and the Racquette.

Fred Murray, Joe Kendall, Andy Walker, Ned Murray, Dr. Pardee and Tom Whitney win in the Lotos.

Frank Thomas is the crack at the New York Yacht, Commodore Chase, Commo-dore Astor, and Jimmy Winslow also rating high.

Dick Peabody, Lewis Rutherford, Ham Cole, Prof. Whithouse and Loyall Farragut are the leaders in the University, Isaac H.

Bromley being the pool-master.

A. C. Palmer is the holder of the champion cue in the Manhattan Athletic. George W. Carr, Harry Pike, George Schaeffer, James Magee and Walter Stone also rank as experts George H. Taylor is the champion in the Union League, while Bank Presidents White (Bleecker Street Savings), Wood (Bowery) and Tappan (Gallatin National) are crack

All That Glitters Is Not Gold. Beware of imitations of our cigarettes, especially of our new brands, "White-Capes," "Latest English" and "Cross-Country." All extra fine. Kinney Tobacco Co., New York.

MORMONS ON LONG ISLAND.

LATTER-DAY SAINTS WORKING QUIETLY AT CHRISTIAN HOOK.

Accept All the Doctrines of the Morm Paith, Except Polygamy, the Practice of Which the Women Consider a Heinous Offense - Services Held at the Saints' Houses by Elder Penrose, of Utah.

HRISTIAN HOOK is the appropriate name of a little hamlet on Long Island, which is otherwise known as Oceanville. Here re-side a score or more families, whose support is derived from farming and garden-ing in summer and oyster digging in win-ter. Representatives these years of patient warding and religious study, have become these families, after

Christian faith as taught and practised in the world, is not the true religion and have abandoned it for the, to them, more perfect, consistent and acceptable faith of the Mor-

They support all the doctrines of the Mormon faith, as it is now preached and spurn the single prerogative, which to the common mind is supposed to be the fundamental right of a true Mormon polygamy. It is a grave error now to associate polygamy with Mormondom, for while years ago it was its chief characteristic, now lawful polygamy in Utah Territory does not exist.

With this powerful factor gone there exists but a slight religious difference between the faith of this little band of worshippers and the Christian world at large, a mere theoretical difference, to which, however, the handful of men and women point with pride.

"How do we differ from other Christians in the world?" they say. "Well, we believe in the Bible, every word of it. Christians, as they are known in the world, believe in but part of it. We believe that the end of the world is approaching. There are wars and rumors of wars. There are earthly disturbances which to us mean much more than a realize of real eard liver this of These things. non faith, as it is now preached and spurn ances which to us mean much more than a rending of rock and loss of life. These things rending of rock and loss of life. These things mean to us that the end of the world is approaching. Do they mean the same to all the world. We are preparing ourselves for the hereafter, which is, we believe, close at hand, and," they add with pride, "we receive our religious training and instruction from men whose lives are bound up in the good work that they are doing, and who receive no recompense for preaching the word of God. Do you Christian ministers do that?"

By similar theories they endeavor to prove the superiority of their conception of the divinity over all other believers, and while not over anxious to swell their ranks, are ever willing to baptize into their faith any ever willing to baptize into their faith any such as may profess for it strong belief and conviction. With the exception of one or two, who, like the stupid sheep, blindly follow a leader without knowing the why or wherefore they are sincere; a sincerity which is as true as it is exceptional.

The movement started but a short time ago. It was brought about primarily by the son of Ira Pettit, one of the warmest-hearted and most generous near in the country. The son of Ira fettit, one of the warmest-hearted and most generous men in the country. The son, a few years ago, sold out his grocery business in the East and joined the Mormons at Utah. As he was a firm believer in the Mormon faith he kept the folks at home in-formed of the working of his religion there. These letters were frequent and earnest and they made a deep impression on the ones he they made a deep impression on the ones be-hind.

cast, 18 to 20c, oirloin steak, 18 to 20c, leg mutton, 16c.
Lamb chops, 25c. to 28c.
Lamb chops, 25c.
Lamb chops, 25c. to 28c.
Lamb chops, 25c.
La hind.

A short time ago the son returned for a brief visit, which lengthened into weeks, and which proved the spark for which the smouldering religious passion was waiting. He had hardly returned home before the first definite step was taken. In Utah there is a Relief Society whose sole object is to eare for the sick and needy. A Relief Society was immediately started at Christian Hook, to which none but women were admitted and the large portion were married. Its object was not the amelioration of poverty and distress, but merely to furnish books in which one could obtain instruction in the faith.

Its President is Mrs. Amelia Soper, wife of Zic.

Squabs, $3.50 to $4. doz.

Boston Geese, 18 to 20c.

Boston Ducks, 18 to 20c.

Boston Ducks, 18 to 20c.

Canvasbacks, $3.50 pair.

Grouse, $1.00 pair.

Partridge, 75c, to $1.25 pair.
Reed birds, $1 dozen.
Redheads, $1.50 pair.

Mallards, $1 pair.

Tesl, 75c, to $5c. pair.

Capons, 25c. b.

Quall, $4 doz.

Redbirds, $1 dozen.

Redbirds, $1 pair.

Tesl, 75c, to $5c. pair.

Capons, 25c. b.

Guall, $4 doz.

Roberts, $1.50 pair.

Horier $1.50 co.

Lettuce, $5c. haif peck.

Green oorn, 35c. doz.

Horier $1.00 pair.

Horier $1.00 co.

Lettuce, $5c. haif. peck.

Canidades, $1.50 pair.

Horier $1.50 co.

Lettuce, $5c. haif. peck.

Lettuc tress, but merely to furnish books in which one could obtain instruction in the faith. Its President is Mrs. Amelia Soper, wife of Elbert Soper, who says that he is the boss of his own house. Elbert Soper believes, ac-cording to his own statement that the only his own house. Elbert Soper believes, according to his own statement, that the only way a man can live is by his wits. It is fortunate, the neighbors say, that he is not entitled to membership in the Relief Society.

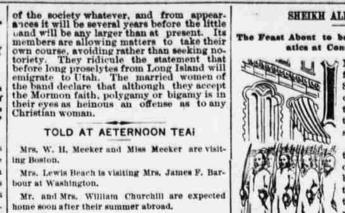

Then prominent among its members are: Mrs. Smith Soper and Mrs. Ira Pettit, while Mrs. Pettit and Joseph Brower are earnest workers in the cause. The society has been organized but a few weeks, but has already held religious services. There is no church that its members desire to attend, so they gather at the houses of different neighbors.

Last Sunday religious service was held at the home of Mrs. Amelia Soper. Elder Penrose, who but recently came East from Salt Lake, conducted the exercises. Two weeks from last Sunday another service will be held, probably at the same house, and possibly conducted by the same elder.

With this exception there are no meetings

SHEIKH ALI'S DEATH.

The Feast About to be Celebrated by Far feast of the death of Sheikh Ali will be N a couple days the feast of the death of Sheikh Ali will be celebrated in Constantinople by the several thousand Persians residing there.

best physicians; have spent hundreds of dollars, and got Two years ago, through the courtesy of the American Embassy, the writer ob tained a good seat in CUTICURA REMEDIES are the greatest medicines on earth. Had the worst case of Sait Rhuum in this country. My mother had it twenty years and in fact died from it. I believe CUTICURA would have saved her life. My arms, breast and head were covered for three years, which nothing relieved or cured until I use the CUTICURA RESOLVENT, internally, and CUTICURA BOAT externally.

NEWARK, O. J. W. ADAMS. the Persian Bazaar, where he had an excellent view of the ghastly procession. Sheikh Ali was the brother-in-law feasts of the Persians during the whole year. A procession is formed of three or four hundred men, dressed in white robes with bare heads and drawn swords, and daggers in their hands. They march around the Persian Bazaar about 8 o'clock in the evening, forming two lines, with the dervishes in the centre, chanting from the Koran the passage concerning their revered priest and his mur der. After an hour of this, they begin to ge Miss Eleanor Winslow will accompany her mother, Mrs. George S. Winslow, and her sister to the chant by bobbing and gashing their beads at every sentence from the Koran. this city after a summer abroad, will resume her

Roy will take place at St. Thomas's Church tomorrow afternoon at 4 o'clock.

At the Short-Petit wedding, which will take place to-morrow week, Messrs. Philip Livingston Howard Townsend, John T. Wainwright and Alfred R. Conkling will be the ushers.

The marriage of Mr. George F. Ferris, of this city, and Miss Louise Caroline Wood, daughter of Mr. Thomas S. Wood, will take place at the Church of the Holy Trinity, Philadelphia, on Nov. 10, at noon.

The marriage of Mr. Wm. Butterfield and Miss Charlotte Du Vernet, daughter of Mrs. P. H. Du Several hundred being killed while the Frenzy several hundred being killed while the Frenzy several hundred being killed while the frenzy of the fanatics lasted, and since then a regiment of soldiers surrounds the procession to guard against a repetition of such scenes. Only a very limited number of Christians are admitted now.

Commodore John G. Walker, U. S. N., is at the Brevoort.

Collector William A. Poucher, of the port of Oswego, is at the Union Square,

At the Brunswick, among other guests, is Congressman Walter A. Wood, of Hoosac

The veteran theatrical manager, J. H. Mc-Vicker, of Chicago, is among the recent ar-rivals at the Murray Hill Hotel.

L. J. Sergeant, of Montreal, General Traf-fic Manager of the Grand Trunk Railroad, arrived at the Windsor Hotel this morning. The signature of Edward Wemple, of Ful-tonville, graces the Hoffman House register. He is the Democratic candidate for State

O. G. Warren, of the Buffalo Express, and Col. C. B. Baldwin, of the Waterbury American, have fled the sanctum to take up their quarters at the St. James.

company in an extensive ranch.

Congressman George West, of Ballston Spa: Isaac V. Baker, jr., who stepped from the Superintendency of State Prisons into a Railroad Commissionership last winter; ExSenator W. H. Barnum, of Connecticut, and
J. G. Batterson, President of the Travellers' Insurance Company, of Hartford, are recent arrivals at the Fifth Avenue Hotel.

Is a bugbear no longer. At the first symptoms of a color cough take a few doses of RIKEM'S EXPECTORANT amount cold is gone. Half-pint bottles for, each. Insis on having Riker's Expectorant and you are positively sure of perfect satisfaction.

Sold almost everywhere.

W. B. RIKER & SON, Druggists and M'Tg Chemists, 352 6th ave., N. V. Established 42 years.

going home. I will send the carriage for of Mahomet, and the celebration of his murder is one of the chief the chant by bobbing and gashing their heads at every sentence from the Koran. This continues until their heads become covered with blood. Many in the procession faint from loss of blood, or go into fits from over-excitement, and are picked up by porters, put into large wicker-baskets and carried home. The friends of those in the procession frequently walk at their side and catch the blows of the swords and dayers on their sticks, when the

IN TOWN FOR A DAY.

Among the guests at the Windsor is Capt. P. M. Price, of West Point.

Ex-Gov. A. R. Shepherd, of Washington, arrived at the Gilsey House yesterday.

Congressman C. A. Boutell, of Bangor, Me., finds a temporary home at the Park Avenue Hotel.

L. Clark Seelye, President of Smith College, Northampton, Mass., registers at the Murray Hill Hotel.

Albemarle arrivals; Daniel O'Day, of the Standard Oil Company, and Henry B. Rice, proprietor of the American House, Boston.

Comptroller. Henry F. Spurr, General Manager, and John J. Leary, New York representative of the Boston and Sandwich Glass Company, are registered at the Astor House.

M. Stafford Northcote and wife, who have been at the Everett House, left that hostelry this morning. Mr. Northcote is the son of the late Sir Stafford Northcote, the celebrated English Conservative statesman, and he has English Conservative statesman, and he has just returned from Dakota, where he has been looking after the interests of an English company in an extensive ranch.

"Hello, Snyderiy! I thought you were out in the country buying potatoes."

"I was out, but I couldn't buy a potato. The farmers know they're scarce and intend holding them till spring."

"So you haven't any, eh?"

"How did you get them?"

"Well, when I came back I offered a prize of a pound of tobacco for the best bushel of potatoes raised by a Nebraska farmer. My cellars are filled and I haven't given away the prize yet."

That Bugbear a Cold

happiness may be mentioned the following:

When you have heard good news; when you have received bad news; when you are in danger of taking cold from becoming overheated; when you feel feverish, after or before being exposed to the cold; when you have purchased any article of clothing; when you are to attend a wedding, a funeral, a christening or a horse-trot; when you win a "pot" of mone; when you lose a dollar or so; when you go to see your "best girl;" when you come away (sure); when you've had about three bottles Mumm's Extra Dry (then it's absolutely necessary), just let me give you a little "tip:"

Take "Riken's Calisava Tonic." You can get it almost anywhere. Don't take any but Riken's, and you are sure of perfect satisfaction. No head on next morning; all the money you had in your pocket the night before there yet. Seel you won't have to club yourself at all, and you'll have an appetite like— Well, ask your cook what it's like; I darsent tell you.

Cost us 4 11-16 cents per glass. 5-16 of a cent petite like — Well, ask your cook was it is like. I darsent tell you.

Cost us 4 11-16 cents per glass, 5-16 of a cent cheaper than beer.

ONE OF THE BOYS." brother's widow is married to Mr. Robert

"Ah!" he started as if struck. "I sup-posed, at the time I came away, that Mr. Greville had other intentions than of waiting

If you supposed Mr. Greville was any-

"Mr. Greville had an opal star, which he supposed to be from some unknown admirer. Knowing who sent him the opal, and knowing that Greville had a fancy at the time for its sender. I naturally supposed that the affair would culminate in marriage."

"I do not understand you," she said.
"Mr. Greville sent me an opal star, which I returned to him. That is all I know about Grace-Miss Berrian!" his tone vas full of intense cagerness. "Did a note accompany the box, asking you to wear the star if you were not indifferent to the giver? Tell me, please."

HAVE YOU A SKIN DISEASE?

no rehef until I used the CUTICURA REMEDIES, which

COVERED WITH SALT RUSEM.

HEAD, PACE AND BODY RAW.

A FEVER SORE CURED.

Sold everywhere, Price CUTTCURA, 50c. : SOAP, 25c.

CUTICUBA RESOLVENT, $1. Prepared by the POTTER DRUG AND CHEMICAL CO., Boston.

EF" Send for "How to Cure Skin Diseases," 64 pages.

TINTED with the loveliest delicacy is the skin pre-served with CUTICUMA MEDICATED SOAP.

With their weary, dull, sching, lifeiess, allgone sensation, relieved in one minute
by the Unitoriza Anti-Pain Planter, the first and only pain-subduing plaster. All druggiess, 25 ceuts.

"BREAK THE MACHINE!!" Is there then nothing left to the people, to the mass of voters, besides either running with the machine or abrogating all their rights and duties as citizens? Yes, there is something left to the mass of the party-it is the veto power, and the veto power only. They can discharge the leaders and BREAK THE MACHINE-THEY CAN

CHOOSE NEW LEADERS AND CON-

STRUCT A NEW MACHINE. This in a properly organized party is their right, and it is the possession of this right and the performance of this duty which keep the machine in proper order

Doesn't Work Both Ways.

[From the Boston Courier.] Bacon says reading maketh a full man, but the nen who get full oftenest are not the greatest

When a Drink is Necessary.

HIS COOPER UNION SPEECH, DEC. 28, 1880.

50 illustrations and 100 testimonials.

Exhaustive Young Writer—Have you read my article in the current number of the Beery Other I feer, Miss Penelope ?

Miss Penelope-No; that pleasure is still in st for me. I heard papa say, though, that he had read it.
Young Writer—Did he not think that I treated my subject in a very exhaustive manner f
Miss Penelope—Yes, I believe he did say something about being tired. this story:

I have been a terrible sufferer for years from diseases of the skin and blood; have been obliged to shun publi places by resson of my disfiguring humors; have had th

BUSINESS NOTICES.

ADAMSON'S BOTANIC COUGH BALSAM'I compaunded of the best concentrated extracts of bar-routs and gums in the world. It is a safe and reliable medicine, pleasant to the taste, and curse coughs, colds, ast hims and croup, Price 35 and 75 cents. Triel bottle

AMUSEMENTS.

Proprietor and Manager... Mrs. POTTER
A SIGNAL TRIUMPH OF BRILLIANT DEBUT MRS. POTTER,

Under the Personal Management of MR. HENRY C. MINER,
in Mr. Delpit's Great Dramatic Romanos, MLL: DE BRESSIER.
Supported by Mr. Kyrle Bellew
(By Courtesy of Mr. H. E. Abbey, of Wallack's)
Reenings at S. Saturday Matines at 2.

I commenced to use your OUTICURA REMEDIES last July. My head and face and some parts of my body were aimost raw. My head was covered with scales and some, and my cuffering was tearful. I had tried everything I had heard of in the Kast and West. Mr case was considered a very had one. I have now not a particle of Skin Humor about me, and my case is considered wonderful. DECATUR, MICH. MRS. B. S. WHIPPLE. EDEN MUSER, 28D ST., BET, STH ACTH AVE.
OPEN FROM 11 TO 11. SUNDAYS, 1 to 11.
GIRON'S GREAT PAINTING DEUX BORURS.
GOOGN'S GREAT PAINTING DEUX BORURS.
MUNUZI LAJOS AND HIS ORCHESTRA. I must extend to you the thanks of one of my customers, who has been cured, by using the CUTICURA REMEDIES, of an old sore, caused by a long spell of sickness or fever eight years ago. He was so bad he was fearnal he would have to have his leg amputated, but is happy to say he is now entirely well—sound as a dollar. He requests me to use his name, which is H. H. CASON, merchant, of this place. JOHN V. MINOR, Druggist, Gainsboro, Tenn.

GREAT FLOWER SHOW.

EXTENDED TO SUNDAY NOV 6.

AJERS—The Mysterying Cheen Automaton.

DOCKSTADER'S Mrs. Blotter CURLY BELLOWS DOCKSTADER. OXYGEN. "CLEVELAND'S TRIP."
NEW JOKES, BALLADS, DANCES,
Evenings, 8,30. Saturday Matines, 2,30.

H.R.JACOBS'S 3D AVE.THEATRE PRICES, 10c.; RESERVED SEATS, 20c. AND SOC. MATINEE TO-MORROW. James A. Herne's Hearts of Oak.

RECRIVED WITH CHEERS AND APPLAUSE, Nov. 7-THE STREETS OF NEW YORK. HARIGAN'S PARK THEATRE.

M. W. HANLEY

THE LEATHER PATCH.

An Artistic Triumph and a Brilliant Succession of the RAHAM AND HIS POPULAR ORCHESTRA WEDNESDAY - MATINER - SATURDAY, Next Week-CORDELIA'S ASPIRATIONS.

STAR THEATRE. Broadway and 18th at.

Last 4 nights of engagement of

JOSEPH JEFFERSON. THE CRICKET ON THE HEARTH LEND ME FIVE SHILLINGS.
Thursday and Friday nights,
THE RIVALS.

STARTHEATRE, Monday, Nov. 7 on Mr. HENTEY REVING, Miss ELEVIN CURRENT and the LY, FAUST, MILL and the leaders in accord with and in subordina-tion to the will of the people.—MAYOR HEWITT IN UNION SQARE THEATRE. J. M. HILL. Manages. The Connedians, and the Connedians and the Connedian

Answers to Correspondents.

A. E.—' Is the knout used in Russia at the present day?" By law its use has been abolished, but the law is a dead letter. The knout is used daily in the prisons upon men suspected of patriotism.

I. W.—The Roman Catholic Church claims a membership of 6,000,000 in this country. To settle bets concerning the number of religious denominations you should consult THE WORLD ALMANAC, page 20. The price is 25 cents by mail, postage paid. 14TH STREET THEATRE, COR. OTH AVE. 14 Matiness Wednerday and Saturday.

GEO.

GEO.

in Bronson Howard's and David Belasco's new play.

R UPOLIPH.

A great stage portraiture. A panomora of home lows.

Gallery, 25c. Reserved, 30c., 75c., 91 and 81.50.

page 90. The price is 25 cents by mail, postage paid.

J. M. S.—"A court of another State has no jurisdiction to dissolve the marriage of a citizen of this State domiciled here, who is not served with process in the foreign State and who does not appear in the action." (76 N. Y., 75.) "Where a marriage is vaild by the laws of another State, its validity cannot be questioned in this State." (92 N. Y., 526.) Under these two proper decisions by the Court of Appeals any man who can afford it may have as many lawful wives in New York State as Solomon ever had in Palestine. Hundreds, if not thousands, of men have taken advantage, often unknown to their wives, to get divorces in a foreign State, and then to bring her to New York. The first wife has no cause for complaint—the divorce is not valid. The second wife has none—her marriage is valid. Gallery, 250. Reserved, 30c., 50c., 13c., 51 and 51. No. Gallery, 250. Reserved, 30c., 50c., 13c., 51 and 51. No. Gallery, 50c., 51c., 51 and 51. No. Gallery, 50c., 51c., 51 and 51 and 51c., 51 and 51 a venings at 8. Matinee Saturday a The sparkling Comic Opera THE MARQUIS Received with roars of laughter.

Casino, BROADWAY AND SUTH ST.

WALLACK'S ROBERTSON'S BEAUTIFUL COMEDY. CASTE, D. Ward, Chas, Groves, T. W. Roberton, M. Miss Rose Cophlan, Miss Popil and Mrs. Abbey. Evenings at 8.15. Mattnee Saturday, 3.15. BUJOU OPRRA-HOUSE.—BURLESQUE.
Rice & Direy's Sumptuous Production.
BURLESQUE
COMPANY.
Company

Among other occasions not already enumerated when a DRINK is necessary to one's health and happiness may be mentioned the following: When you have heard good news; when you DUNNELL'S OLD LONDON MUSEUM

BUNNELL, S OLD LONDON MUBBUM,

728 Broadway 7, 30, 25c. Admission; Children, 10e, BURMESE HAIRY MASCOTS. GALATEA.

Entertainments from noon till 10 P. M.

CHICKERING HALL.

LAN', 7 WO TUA CONCERTS
FRIDAY EVENING, NOV. 4, AT 8,

Admission, $1. All seats $1.50.

I YCEUM THEATRE, 4TH AVE. AND 25D ST.

Every evening at 8, 15. SATURDAY MATINER.

THE WIFE. And First Appearance THE WIFE.

THE WIFE. New Stock Company. THE WIFE.

THE WIFE. New Stock Company. THE WIFE.

POOLE'S THEATRE. Sh st. near 4th and 10c., 20c., 30c. Marinees Monday, Wed., and IN HIS POWER, with original secure y and effects. TYONY PASTOR'S THEATRE, GOOD RESERVED BEATS, Matiness Tuesday and Friday.

TONY PASTOR HOME.
LITTLE TICH, JOHN T. KELLY and a full grand company.

"I will be brave-for your sake, for the sake of what might have been!" he said. "I must go. Good-bye. God have you in his ISS Grace Berrian." Ross Graham wrote the name on the cover of a little white box, then drew out a sheet of paper and wrote

MISS BERRIAN: you. I have never had an opportunity to do so, and a dread of offering ove where it may be un desired, makes me almost a coward. I enclose in the box which accompanies this an opal star. If I see it in your hair to-night, may I take it as a sign that my love
is not rejected, and that I may speak? R. G.

Then he took from a drawer a little case of purple velvet. Upon a bed of snow lay a star of opals. The jewel caught the sunlight and gathered it all together in its fiery heart. then flashed it out in a thousand rays of brightness.

He put the case in the little white box, and he put the case in the little white box, and looked about for his sealing wax.

"I have lost it," he said. "I will get some from the library."

As his feet touched the hall below, a

"I have lost it." he said.

"I have lost it." he said.

"As his feet touched the hall below, a woman stole from the room opposite his own, and entered through the door he had left ppen. She went up to his desk, and read the letter he had written.

"Ah!" she said. "He takes this method of telling how much he loves her. I will not give him up so easily. Grace Berrian, it lies betwen you and me, and you shall not win!"

She stole out again. There was an evil glitter in her eyes.

Graham came back presently. He was an evil glitter in her eyes.

Graham came back presently. He was an evil glitter in her eyes.

Graham came back presently. He was an evil glitter in her eyes.

Graham came back presently. He was an evil glitter in her eyes.

Graham came back presently. He was an evil glitter in her eyes.

Graham came back presently. He was an evil glitter in her eyes.

Graham came back presently. He was an evil glitter in her eyes.

Graham came back presently. He was an evil glitter in her eyes.

Graham came back presently. He was an evil glitter in her eyes.

Graham came back presently. He was an evil glitter in her eyes.

Graham came back presently. He was an evil glitter in her eyes.

Graham came back presently. He was an evil glitter in her eyes.

Graham came back presently. He was an evil glitter in her eyes.

Graham came back presently. He was and read what Ross She stole out again. There was an evil glitter in her eyes.

Ross Graham came back presently. He sealed the box, then folded the note, and enclosed it in an envelope bearing the same address. Placing them together in the drawer, he closed the desk and left the room.

On the landing he met his cousin, Isabel Leith.

he bent and kissed her olive cheek. "One of the most beautiful women I ever saw."

"I suppose you think the most beautiful woman you ever saw is a certain Grace Berrian," she said, laughingly. "Rumor says so. Is rumor right?"

"Of course," he answered, smiling.

"Perhaps I shall see her presently. If so I'll tell her what you said."

She ran down the stairs, sending back a soft, musical laugh, as she reached the hall. And, sure enough, in one of the shops she met Miss Berrian.

"Good morning," she said, holding out her hand to the woman who had won Ross Graham's heart. "Have you seen Mr. Robert Greville this morning?"

Miss Berrian had not.

Miss Berrian had not.

"Ah!" said Miss Leith, Then perhaps I can let you into a little secret. I saw him at jeweller's. He was looking at an opal star. From a remark he dropped, I am sure I know what he intends to do with it. If you find out anything about it let me know."

what he intends to do with it. If you find out anything about it, let me know."

"You shall know all I learn about it," answered Miss Berrian, wondering what had put the idea into Miss Leith's head that she would be apt to know any more about Mr. Greville's jewels than any one else.

Mr. Greville was hardly the sort of man for a woman of Grace Berrian's taste to be intimate with. Did Miss Leith mean to intimate that the jewel was intended for her?

"Remember," cried Miss Leith, "you promised to tell me if you find out anything more about the opal."

more about the opal."

That afternoon a box and a letter bearing her name in the same handwriting were laid upon Grace's table. She opened the letter and read what Ross Graham had written that sealed the box, then folded the note, and enclosed it in an envelope bearing the same address. Placing them together in the drawer, he closed the desk and left the room.

On the landing he met his cousin, Isabel Leith.

"Ah! Going out?" he asked.

"Yes." she answered, turning her, dark and beautiful face towards him.

Her eyes were soft now, and full of fascinating influences.

"You are a basutiful woman," he said, as the same and the said at the soft to the south of the sort to the s dress, with crimson trimmings, made her olive beauty dazzlingly brilliant. A scarlet camelia in her hair and one upon her bosom among folds of filmy lace, set off her features as no gems could have done. Her eyes were bright enough to make up for her lack of jewels.

There was a bustle at the door. It was Grace Berrian's arrival; she came in as Ross looked that way.

Ross Graham turned away with a sudden sinking of his heart. Had he been deceived? Had tender words and downcast glances meant nothing? meant nothing?

Sick of the glare and glitter, full of mockery to his feelings just then, he left the saloon and entered the refreshment room. Two or three gentlemen were there. One of them was standing under the chandelier. Something glittered on his watchguard. Ross Graham caught the glimmer, and saw an opal star!

At that moment the lurid fire which leaped from the stone with every movement of its wearer caught the attention of a young man standing by.

"Ah, Greville," he asked, "what have you there? A rather costly trinket to wear on your chain, I should say; you are getting ex-travagant." "Rather pretty, isn't?" said Greville, holding it in the light. "Portable lightning," flashing it back and forth in the blaze of gaslight. "The mystery of the thing makes it all the more valuable to me. You see, I received it from some unknown source this afternoon, and I haven't the least idea who sent it."

Rose Graham staggered out into the open air. There was no hope now. She was false air. There was no hope now. She was false to him. He had thought her the incarnation of all that is pure and womanly in woman; and he had loved her! That was worst of all. Isabel Leith saw, without appearing to see

Isabel Leith saw, without appearing to see. She read the secret of the pallor on her cousin's face. She knew that no one else in the room knew, except himself, that his heart was aching with a terrible pain. And she knew what he did not—that she had caused it. But she was playing to win, and the game was between her and Grace Berrian—and she would not give up while there remained the shadow of a chance. She was glad Grace Berrian had sent the jewel back to its supposed sender. Now Ross believed that she had a hidden fondness for Greville, and had sent the jewel to him. Believing this, he would not trouble himself long about her. "Isabel," Ross said, a little later, "I am you when you are ready."

"Let me go with you," she said. "Indeed, I would rather."

"As you please," he answered,
The drive home was a silent one. He was too busy with his bitter thoughts to think of anything to say to her.

Got All He Wanted. [From the Nebruska State Journal.] "Hello, Snyderly! I thought you were out

In the hall, he kissed her good night as usual.

"Oh, Ross!" she cried, "if you only knew how unworthy Grace Berrian is of your love."
I do!" he said, bitterly. "I do not be-lieve there is such a thing as sincerity in the orld."

Don't think because she is false, all putting your foot upon the heart you had "Oh, Ross! how can you ask me?" sh asked.

He asked himself a swift question. Should he show Grace Berrian how little he cared for her by taking this woman for his wife? His pride was touched, as well as his heart, you see,

"Isabel," he said suddenly, "could you love me well enough to marry me?"
"Don't ask me such questions," she an-"Don't ask me such questions," she answered.
"No matter how much I love you, you would not care for me."
"I am in earnest." he said, seriously. "If you will take me, tell me so."
"Oh, Ross! do you mean it?" she cried, and put up her ripe, red lips and kissed him, her face full of triumphant gladness.
When Miss Berrian heard of it, her face grew sheatly white for a moment, only one grew ghastly white for a moment—only one. Then she summoned up all her pride, and crushed down the pain that was beating at her heart, that no one might see it in her

"False! false!" she kept saying to herself.

"And I loved him so!"

Five years went by. They were not happy years to Ross. He found out, when too late, that he and Isabel Leith had no tastes in women are, "she said, her voice third synth sweetness." I don't know," he answered, doubtfully.

"I do," she whispered, her eyes upon his face, her breath upon his cheek.

Then, as if suddenly remembering herself, she blushed hotly, and drew her hand away from his, as if in sudden distress. It was a pretty piece of acting.

"Would you be true?" he asked. "Could you love well enough to forgo the pleasure of you love well enough to forgo the pleasure of "By the last post," she answered, "Your"

or marriage so long."
He looked at her meaningly,

"If you supposed Mr. Greville was anything to me, you were mistaken," she answered, understanding what he meant. "I never liked him."

He started. Was she speaking truthfully? If she had not cared for the man, why had she given him the opal? Should he ask her?

"Mr. Greville had an opal star, which he man, which he was many admirer."

mistakes," Grace said, her eyes on the fair mistakes." Grace said, her eyes on the fair blue hills.

"It is hard to look the truth in the face." rejoined Ross, "but I can do it, knowing that after all, you were the true, pure woman I had thought you to be. I believe the hardest blow of all was to think that you were false, and that my dream of true womanhood was, after all, only a dream. How can I go back to my wife, knowing what I do now, and live my life out with her? Pity me! Pity me! But I shall hate her!"

The woman's eyes were full of tears. From her heart she did pity the strong man so shaken with sudden grief.

"Be brave!" she said. "After the crossbearing, cometh rest. We all have crossas to bear. Some have heavier ones than others, but I think those who bear the heaviest burdens will have the sweetest rest when rest comes."

"I will be brave—for your sake for the keeping."

He held her hand in his a moment, then went down the hill towards the city lying in a haze of golden splendor beneath a cloud-